New Business of the Month: JFT Secure Ltd.

JFT Secure Ltd., a Prince George-based mobile security and first aid company, is filling an important need in the area, says President Jason Thompson. "I've been in the security and first aid industry for quite some time now, and saw a particular need in the industrial sector of Prince George for these services," he explains. Prince George is Thompson's hometown, giving him an inside perspective on the need for security and first aid services in a city in which he loves doing business.

Thompson believes there is an increasing need for the services his company provides in Prince George, which is the supply and service centre for a booming regional resource-based economy. With Occupational First Aid Level 3 certified personnel, mobile treatment centres and fully-trained security guards, JFT Secure is prepared to take on both new and existing projects in the region. "We primarily work in oil and gas, though the forestry sector is also big in terms of first aid requirements. Prince George has always been a part of the resource industry. With a lot of pipeline-related work coming from the north within the next few years, all that activity will be within an hour's drive of Prince George. And all that activity just enhances the current environment of the industrial community."

In an industrial environment centred on safety, Thompson says his business maintains the highest standards. "Safety is huge in my company," he notes. "I work very closely with safety officers and personally go to a number of safety meetings every week to make sure that expectations are being exceeded."

While Thompson's company is less than a year old, he has secured many contracts with local sites and even finds himself turning down business on occasion due to high demand. Based on Prince George's strong growth, the future looks very bright for his company.
